Environs

Eskdale Sidings lies in a superb position just off the High Street alongside two charming stone buildings, the primary school and railway station. Built in 1850 the Grade II listed railway building with its Tudor arches and chimneys offers a rural service on the Esk Valley railway line to Whitby through the famous 13-arch railway viaduct, handling a handful of trains a day, including the occasional steam train. Over the village street lies the green and the Bridge Inn, a traditional pub adjacent to the river Esk. Eskdale Sidings is surrounded by superb countryside with a number of walks from the doorstep, including a mile-long riverside footpath into the heart of Whitby. Bus services also connect to the village. Ruswarp itself has a number of local shops, a miniature railway and pleasure boats on the Esk.
